

4-1253/A

2 June 1953

Dear Bob:

[redacted] in whose behalf you wrote me on May 15, came in recently when I was tied up and talked instead with my assistant. As you may know, [redacted] has been an applicant before this Agency since 1950, and I have assured myself that our Personnel Office has given him every consideration. His qualifications have been carefully reassessed against our vacancies and we have nothing suitable.

Because of [redacted] personal study of Russian law, the State Department's Office of Intelligence Research may be the appropriate place for him to apply. We have suggested as much to [redacted] who indicated that he has an application pending with State.

Thank you for your continuing interest in the Agency.

Sincerely yours,

Allen W. Dulles
